February 15-18 at Lumen Field Event Center

Over 400 New RV Models, 50 Manufacturers, 23 Local Dealers, Discounted Show Prices, Free Educational Seminars, Exhibits and Demonstrations!

SEATTLE – February 8, 2024–The Northwest’s largest RV show, the Seattle RV Show, returns Thursday through Sunday at Lumen Field Event Center. Twenty three local RV dealers will fill the 300,000 square foot venue with over 400 new models. Attendees can shop and compare all the them and meet dealers who are selling them, all under one roof. Manufacturer representatives and financing institutions will be available to provide advice and answers to any question.

A wide array of exhibits and demonstrations will be presented and show-goers are encouraged to attend free, educational seminars presented by RV experts and celebrities throughout the four-day event. Topics include: “Planning a National Parks trip”, “RVing using Solar”, “Boondocking”, “Full-time RVing”, “Safe Towing”, “How to Buy a Class B Motorhome” and “Concealed Carry Permits for RVers”.

Whether you’re a seasoned RV veteran or a first-time attendee, the Seattle RV Show is THE place to learn more about this extraordinary lifestyle plus make some tremendous buys from competitive dealers.

Many attending the show will be looking for something to place on their vacation property and while an RV can be a good choice, a destination trailer, a tiny home or a park model may be a much better choice. At the 2024 Seattle RV Show, six dealers will be displaying these options.

Once again, when guests buy tickets at SeattleRVshow.com, they will also receive a five-dollar, one-day parking pass in the Mariners Garage (7’-0” clearance). Those interested in returning another day are invited to stop by the Show Office to register for complimentary return tickets.

The 60th Seattle RV Show got its start in the old Seattle Coliseum, a year after the World’s Fair in 1963, and is produced by the non-profit MHRV Show Association.

Interview, Bryan Appleby as he presents his fascinating seminars at the Seattle RV Show: "Boondocking" and "The Good, the Bad and Ugly sides of Full-Timing"

Bryan has spent 17 seasons as a National Park Ranger in Grand Teton, Yellowstone and Rocky Mountain National Parks. He has vast experience and personal knowledge from 12+ years of full-timing which includes 4,000+ consecutive nights of camping of which only 64 were in campgrounds. ### DEBUT OF THE MINI LOFT, TOWABLE TRAVEL TRAILER

The Timberwolf 16ML ("mini loft") travel trailer is making its debut at the Seattle show. Super tall, looks like a destination trailer or park model but this unit is designed to go wherever you want towed behind your pick-up or SUV. Built-in patio, huge bathroom, combo unit washer/dryer, ice maker, large refrigerator, dishwasher, multi-purpose sink with a Yeti-cup upside down washer, 3-burner cook top w/ vent hood, oven, soft-closing drawers, huge windows with zebra blinds and a staircase leading to a sleeping loft with a mini fireplace! The innovation of this unit is incredible and it will be one of the most popular units at the show! Take a look at this video tour:

CLASS B MOTORHOMES (Conversion vans, camper vans, B vans, or Class B motorhomes)

Whatever you want to call them, these small motorhomes are beloved by RVers and they're selling like 99¢ a gallon gasoline! In fact, they have become one of the largest-selling types of motorhomes. They showcase the shift toward minimalism--nimble to navigate and are simple for self-sufficient living--5 minutes to set up, 5 minutes to pack away and hit the road. Compare that to a Class A or Class C motorhome.
